

January 12, 2012

Hope for Haiti®

Two Years Later: On the Road to Recovery

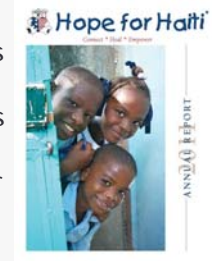

Today marks the second anniversary of the devastating earthquake that hit Haiti's capital, Port-au-Prince, took the lives of over 300,000 men, women, and children and forever changed the lives of the survivors left in its wake. It has been an unbelievable two years of heartache, perseverance, and dedication. Though rebuilding in the capital has been remarkably slow, we have seen tremendous progress in the South where thousands fled into our impact area after the earthquake. We are energized by these pockets of HOPE, and thank you for believing in us as we fulfill our many commitments beyond earthquake relief.

As Haiti recovers and rebuilds, Hope for Haiti continues to support vital programs on which the Haitian people will emerge from this disaster capable of leading their country into the future. Our organization's primary focus is education, the foundation on which all of our programs are built. Our ability to build capacity within our programs-education, nutrition, healthcare, and community development- depends on the generosity of our many supporters and partners like you. Again, WE THANK YOU. Please view a special video, generously created by one of our volunteers, which documents our earthquake response and our ongoing work today.

January 12, 2012

Also, we'd like to share our new 2011 Annual Report. We hope you enjoy reading about how your support is impacting the lives of over 500,000 children and their families through our programs. The success stories are heartwarming and our plans for sustainable development are concrete. As always, we value your feedback and appreciate your loyal partnership as together we CONNECT, HEAL, and EMPOWER!

Please join us in a moment of silence and reflection today at 4:53 PM, as we remember all of the families affected by the earthquake. If you would like to make a donation in honor of Haiti's Road to Recovery, you can click here.

www.hopeforhaiti.com