Hope for Haiti's Healthcare Team Tackles Emergency Medical Care

Hope for Haiti's Emergency Medical Relief Program, named in memory of the initiative's generous donor, Robert E. Hord, provides urgent care to those in serious need. Through the Hope for Haiti

Infirmery as well as our partner schools and healthcare facilities, we identify people whose lives are threatened by even the most easily treatable health problems. The rest is simple: we do whatever it takes to get them the care they need, before it's too late.

After being examined by Hope for Haiti doctors, our patients are given full support for treatment and medications, either directly at our clinic or indirectly through our relationships with healthcare specialists throughout the country. Lately, we've found the most prevalent cases to be severe diabetes and painful hernias. Women in particular have been treated for breast and uterine tumors, while many men have been identified with inflamed prostates or prostate cancer. The rainy season has increased the number of children suffering from pneumonia, many cases of which are so severe that a family's inability to buy medications can literally dictate the outcome of their child's life.

These activities would not be possible without our dedicated doctors and new staff members. Although we've mentioned their amazing work before, we want to formally introduce them and show our gratitude for the services they provide to their fellow Haitians. Leading the team is a new addition, Dr. Elmide Nazaire, along with longtime Healthcare Director, Dr. Steeve Victor. After receiving scholarships to complete medical school in Cuba, this couple has returned to their hometown of Les Cayes to dedicate their expertise to their neighbors in need.

Miss Fildor Dapheline and Miss Daphné Moïse are registered nurses who studied at the Les Cayes nursing academy. These young women manage the daily clinic operations, assist the doctors with patients, and run the pharmacy. Miss Rachel St. Germain and Miss Pierrette Nicolas lead our new community health initiative, traveling into rural areas with the Hope for Haiti field staff to conduct health education sessions and distribute essential vitamins and medications.

Trained laboratory technician, Miss Pascal Cadely, is helping get the Hope for Haiti lab up and running, while Miss Mary Marthe Lindor manages our 4,000+ on-going patient files. Mrs. Luce Destiné keeps the clinic space orderly and hygienic. Janvier "Macky" Joméus coordinates spending for the emergency medical cases, accompanying patients to referral visits, managing their lab tests, and connecting them to whatever life-saving medications the doctors prescribe.

Our Haitian team is fantastic, and the Hope for Haiti Infirmary's reputation is growing accordingly. In May, we had 34 active emergency cases receiving ongoing treatment and medications through the Robert E. Hord Emergency Medical Fund. In June, we're already up to 40 new cases alongside our primary care consultations! We think this is impressive and hope you will, too. If so, you can help our clinic staff continue to help others efficiently and successfully.

Please donate to our Healthcare Program or support an on-going emergency case today. Thank you!
