OUR ZIKA RESPONSE CONTINUES

DONATE TODAY!

With the threat of the Zika virus upon us, Hope for Haiti continues to respond with critical education and prevention tools for our program partners in Haiti. We have not wasted time and have worked strategically to put YOUR donations into action. Since February, we have distributed over 400 Zika Prevention Maternity Kits to pregnant mothers (containing bug spray with 40% DEET, water purification tablets, mosquito nets, and other basic supplies) and 2,000 Zika education pamphlets to students at four Hope for Haiti partner schools and at our Infirmary St. Etienne. Preventative education is the best weapon we can take towards fighting this disease!

Keeping mothers and their babies healthy is our biggest goal. Mothers like 24-year-old JoAnne, in her second trimester, have been coming to our clinic for the past few weeks to learn about the virus and receive tips on how to stay healthy. JoAnne has no running water in her cement house, so she was really excited to receive aqua tabs (water purification tablets) to help keep her drinking water safe while pregnant.

The fight is not over. Since February, the numbers infected and the geographic spread of the Zika virus continues. There are still vulnerable mothers who need YOUR help! Help us to ensure mothers like JoAnne have the proper resources to deliver healthy and happy babies.
